How It Works

Welcome to Open Farm Day 2026!

Your essential guide to exploring Lewis County's vibrant agricultural scene is right here!

Join us on Saturday, August 8, 2026, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. for Open Farm Day, presented by the Agriculture Program at Cornell Cooperative Extension Lewis County. This booklet introduces you to the 11 participating farms and businesses that are eager to share their unique agricultural enterprises with you.

Planning Your Day

Look for "Open Farm Day" signs at each location for easy navigation. Farms will be offering a variety of activities, including tours, free samples, and animal interactions. To make the most of your visit, we recommend reading the farm descriptions in this booklet. You can also use the symbols at the bottom of each farm spotlight as a quick guide to see what special offerings are available at each farm.

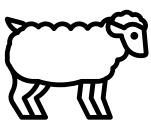

Open Farm Day Etiquette:

- Pets are NOT allowed on Open Farm Day Farms.
- Please take only one insulated shopping tote per family.
- Please do not stray on farms; stay within designated visitor areas and exercise reasonable care regarding disclosed risks.
- Please follow all posted rules of conduct at specific operations and do not willfully remove, deface, or otherwise damage signs or other personal property.

1 - Cogumelo Mushrooms LLC

4090 Factory Road, Natural Bridge, NY 13665

At Cogumelo Mushrooms, we grow specialty mushrooms on logs, in beds, and in controlled environment chambers, including oyster, lion's mane, shiitake, wine caps, and chestnut. We also produce specialty crops using regenerative methods and small batches of pasture-raised chickens and turkeys. We have plenty of fresh produce, fresh mushrooms, and frozen whole chickens, as well as ready-to-fruit mushroom kits and a wide variety of mushroom growing supplies. We will be set up to inoculate hardwood bolts with shiitake spawn and share information on wild mushroom morphology, ecology, and identification.

2 - Hopenhagen Farm

10218 Washington Street, Copenhagen, NY 13626

Hopenhagen Farm, located in Copenhagen, NY, was born from the idea of utilizing our farmland after retirement. What started with hops in 2014 morphed into growing lavender in 2016. In May 2017, we opened a specialty store at our farm which specializes in hop and lavender products. We completed a 20-C kitchen and opened The Tea Room in early 2018 and offer a beautiful room for events and traditional afternoon tea parties. We are New York Grown and Certified. Hopenhagen Farm Annual Lavender Festival is always on the second Saturday in July. You are welcome to stroll through our fragrant lavender fields and cut your own fresh lavender. There are over 100 vendors offering fine food, crafts, and products. Our farm provides a one-of-a-kind experience with specialty made products and family farm experience. We hope to see you soon.

3 - Dani's Daffodils

10279 Old State Road, Carthage, NY 13619

Dani's Daffodils is a seasonal cut flower farm providing fresh, locally grown blooms. Visit during u-pick days to pick your own bouquet, stop by our bouquet bar to create a custom arrangement, or enjoy the convenience of our bouquet subscriptions for fresh blooms all season long! We also offer a 24/7 self-serve farmstand, making it easy to grab a bouquet whenever you please!

We can't wait to grow your next bouquet!

4 - Moser's Maple, LLC

9605 Croghan Reservoir Road, Croghan, NY 13327

Moser's Maple is a 5th generation family operation that has strong ties to its land. The products that are created are from award winning maple syrup boiled in our maple production facility in the spring time. We use our 20-c kitchen year round to create products that are diverse and delectable. Our products can be found in many local stores or you can visit our sugarhouse to purchase products or just get a tour. This year we will be serving maple slushies and a maplecino.

10 - Miller's Meat Market

6525 Number Four Road, Lowville, NY 13367

Nested in the center of beautiful Lewis County you will find a hidden treasure that is Miller's Meat Market. A family-owned butcher shop known for its custom meat processing and fresh cuts. The market dates back to 1962 when it opened. We are offering animal exhibits including rabbits, chickens, and Highpark calves. At the top of every hour we will give an educational explanation of how an egg is formed and the different stages of growth. Miller's food truck will be opened and serving our normal Saturday fare along with hot dogs. Come inside the market and sample one of our most unique products called Old Style Summer Sausage and cheeses. We look forward to providing a memorable experience and seeing you August 8th at Miller's Meat Market

Homegrown:

There are 476 farms right here in Lewis County. Across the entire state, there are 1.4 million head of cattle (including 631,199 milk cows and 102,671 beef cows).

Sailor's Secrets: Historically, hops were used to keep bacteria out of the drinking water during long journeys at sea.

Glow-in-the-Dark Mushrooms: New York is home to over 2,000 known species of mushrooms—and some of them actually glow in the dark! Look out for Panellus stipticus (Bitter Oyster), Armillaria mellea (Honey Fungus), and Omphalotus illudens (Jack-o'-lantern).

Flower Power: New York has over 700 cut flower growers across the state, bringing in over $10.5 million in beautiful blooms.

Maple Magic: New York produced 884,000 gallons of maple syrup in 2026! It takes roughly 40 gallons of sweet maple sap to boil down into just 1 gallon of syrup.

The Dairy Standard: It takes about 10 pounds of milk to make just 1 pound of hard cheese like cheddar.

High-Flying Bees:

Honey bees routinely fly at altitudes over 30 feet high and will travel up to 3 miles from their hive just to forage for food.

Lavender's Versatility: Lavender essential oil can be used in various forms including aromatherapy, gels, infusions, lotion and soaps.
